Let's Go Out!

What restaurants around town are serving and celebrating

This month, we take you on a tour of local restaurants stirring up seasonal dishes, pouring wine pairings, dreaming up no-proof cocktails and sharing kitchen secrets. We hope next time you dine out, you'll check out these spots, armed with menu inspiration and local knowledge. Bon Appétit!

CARMEL

3009 Bolling Way NE, Suite G130
Meet Tal Baum, Oliva Restaurant Group

Promising new favorites

Our three most popular dishes include Oysters, Caviar Fries and the Lobster Roll. Oysters are heavily tied to our identity, and nearly all guests can enjoy them with the many variations we offer. The Caviar Fries are a simple but decadent treat for the table and the Lobster Roll is offered in two classic styles.

When to hit "refresh?"

Deciding when to retire an item comes down to several factors, but we always consider the item's performance and sales trends as well as our overall menu composition. We want to ensure a balance of options.

Giving back

Throughout the year, we participate in community-supporting fundraising events and also provide gift cards to auctions, backing initiatives such as Chastain Park Conservancy, Meals on Wheels, Giving Kitchen and Emory ALS Center.

LE COLONIAL

Meet Declan Nye, National Director of Operations, and Hassan Obaye, National Culinary Director

Promising new favorites

We're so excited about our new menu item, La Flamme. The delectable Baked Alaska, crafted by Marta Kantorowicz, combines salted caramel gelato and coconut sorbet with passion fruit, aged shoyu caramel and raspberry crème anglaise. It's available exclusively during dinner service on Friday and Saturday nights.

Perfect pairings

For those who prefer a non-alcoholic option, we recommend the Lemongrass Spritz (NA), made with Seedlip Citrus Botanical, lemongrass syrup, yuzu essence and Q Soda. Meanwhile, for diners interested in a sparkling alcoholic option, we suggest the Gérard Bertrand Crémant Brut, France, '21.

When to hit "refresh?"

We'll usually begin the process of retiring a menu item with an internal menu engineering analysis, which relies on guest feedback and whether an item is losing its popularity due to the season. Then, we'll create an alternative option that is up to par with whatever is in season. We also like to encourage our local chefs to hone their creativity by providing specials each month.

CHICO CANTINA

Where food comes from

Three of our favorite local purveyors are Pearson Farms, Châtel Farms and Springer Mountain Farms. Chatel Farms beef is featured in our Smoked Beef Barbacoa Taco.

Giving back

We offer 20% off meals to healthcare workers from nearby hospitals, including Children's Healthcare of Atlanta, Piedmont Hospital and the Shepherd Center. We also host Grade School Spirit Nights, where a percentage of proceeds goes directly back to participating local schools. We were proud to provide meal sponsorships for the Brookhaven Police Department's 2nd Annual Teen Academy.
